e-Partners in Giving is partnering with Texas Country Music and Giving Back from Texas to Tennessee

e-Partners in Giving, an online donation company, has recently partnered with artists and companies representing Texas Country Music to raise funds and awareness for Back On My Feet, a non-profit organization that attacks homelessness through running.

Drew Myers, President/CEO of e-Partners in Giving, is taking Texas Country Music to the Country Music Marathon in Nashville this Saturday, April 25, 2009. There are several Texas Country Music artists that helped partner with this endeavor including Darren Kozelsky, Johnny Cooper, the Casey Donahew Band, and the Josh Abbott Band, all of whom have their own unique sound which contributes so much to the Texas Country Music genre. Texas Red Dirt Photos, which specializes in live concert and event photography, promotional shots and CD photos, has also partnered with Myers to help this great cause.

In the spirit of giving back, Myers will not only donate all proceeds to Back On My Feet, but he will also help promote his “partners” while in Nashville by wearing their concert t-shirt and passing out CD’s during the mile(s) sponsored. He will also include them in all media communications (follow on Twitter drew_myers) and has also created a blog/website, <http://runningtogiveback.blogspot.com/>.

“This crazy endeavor combined all the things that I love – giving back, helping the homeless, running and Texas Country Music,” says Drew Myers. “I’m proud to represent Texas Country Music in Nashville while raising money for Back On My Feet and sincerely appreciate the artists’ willingness to give back.”
